RIGHT TO INFORMATION DAY

Shivsamarth Institute of Management, Talmavale, observed Informatio Day on 28 September 2026 to create awareness among students about the importance of information management, digital literacy, and the responsible use of information resources.

Miss. Shubhangi Chavan, Librarian, addressed the students and highlighted the role of authentic information sources, including libraries, digital repositories, online journals, institutional databases, and official websites. She emphasized the importance of verifying the accuracy and reliability of information before using or sharing it, particularly on social media and other digital platforms.

The programme encouraged students to develop information literacy, adopt responsible digital practices, and utilize reliable information resources for academic learning, research, and professional development. The session reinforced the importance of accurate, accessible, and well-organized information in effective communication and decision-making.

The activity contributed to enhancing students' awareness of digital responsibility and the effective utilization of information resources in the modern educational environment.

The celebration concluded with the message that accurate and reliable information is an essential resource for informed learning, effective communication, research, and sound decision-making. The activity contributed to the institute's efforts to promote information literacy and responsible use of digital resources among students.
